The Airliner Price Guide, providing hard copy aircraft valuation guides to the aviation industry since 1985, has recently undergone significant website enhancements. The enhancements provide for a more user-friendly environment and much easier navigation.

The Airliner Price Guide valuation website www.airlinerpriceguide.com was launched in 2005 featuring the same Commercial Aircraft, Regional Aircraft and Engine value content contained within the hard copy which is published twice a year.

“We had a very successful launch of our interactive website a little over a year ago. During the past year, our team has identified a few areas within the website that were slated for improvement”, said Mr. Quentin Brasie Chairman and CEO of the Airliner Price Guide. Mr. Brasie went on to say, “The site improvements provide easier navigation, more efficient printer friendly reports, and improved aesthetics.”
